

Young People, their communities and crime awareness – just some of the topics up for discussion at the Bassetlaw District Youth Assembly consultation day

Retford Leisure Centre will be buzzing on Tuesday 28 February 2006 as Young People aged 13-19 are given the opportunity to find out more about the Bassetlaw District Youth Assembly.

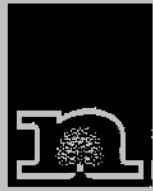

The consultation event will take place from 9.30am – 3pm and will enable young people to come together, to discuss and speak out about issues, which affect them and their local communities.

Organised by Nottinghamshire County Council and Bassetlaw District Council, the day will give young people the opportunity to meet with local councillors and members of Youth Parliament and four workshops will run throughout the day looking at the youth assembly, art activities, crime awareness and sexual health.

Nottinghamshire County Council's Assistant Director for Young People's Division, Anthony May said: "I think this event is a great opportunity to show young people how they can have their voices heard on important issues which affect them. By raising awareness of the Bassetlaw District Youth Assembly, we want to encourage young people to be a part of the future of their District and Nottinghamshire."
